Additional rules:

Four property sets are required to win.

Optional Rules:

The game is played in rounds (every game is one round) after each game the money and action cards on the losing players' bank accounts are credited to the winner. The first player to reach 50M wins.

Add thirteen Rent Cards (the whole set from deck 2)

P.S. The resulting comparative percentages are as follows:

-Vanilla version:

- * 47 action cards (~44%)
- * 20 money cards (~19%)
- * 39 property cards (~37%)

106 Cards

-HK Special Pack:

- * 57 action cards (~45%)
- * 25 money cards (~20%)
- * 44 property cards (~35%)

126 Cards

-Proposed Variant:

- * 64 action cards (~45%)
- * 30 money cards (~20%)
- * 49 property cards (~35%)

143 cards

It keeps the original balance, though I'm not sure if I want property cards to be harder to get.

-After adding 13 rent cards (optional):

- * 77 action cards (~49%)
- * 30 money cards (~20%)
- * 49 property cards (~31%)

156 cards

The percentages are slightly altered, but still close enough to the original. I'm still figuring the balance within each group of cards vs the original.
